World Water Week in Stockholm is organised by Stockholm International Water Institute (SIWI) and is the world's leading annual water event.

WWW.WORLDWATERWEEK.ORG
#WWEEK

World Water Week in Stockholm is a platform in which ideas are exchanged, projects developed and partnerships established.

World Water Week hosts an Ideas' Marketplace in the exhibition area, a space dedicated to ideas and projects seeking funding and/or partnerships that will provide you with an opportunity to discuss your ideas and projects and future ventures with the wide range of World Water Week delegates.

CALL FOR PROPOSALS

The Ideas Marketplace is an open platform for anybody to showcase their ideas or projects, however when selecting the projects, young professionals (candidates under 35 years of age) will be given priority.

For each of the selected projects, World Water Week will offer:

- One exhibitor badge to attend World Water Week
- A table on which to display project information
- Possibility of displaying a roll-up banner

COSTS

Exhibiting at the Ideas' Marketplace cost 1,000 SEK (approx. 110 €). Please note that you will be expected to cover your costs associated with taking part in World Water Week in Stockholm, such as travel and accommodation.
